Lady in Waiting Guidelines

Congratulations, you have just been chosen as Miss Rodeo Oklahoma Princess! The pride and honor of wearing this crown brings with it a tremendous amount of responsibilities. Be sure to read your contract carefully; when you sign your contract, you will be accepting the challenge of not only representing PRCA and the sport of rodeo, but also the great State of Oklahoma. You will touch the lives of hundreds of people across Oklahoma and you will become a role model to hundreds of younger children. Wear your crown proudly!

Remember that by signing your contract, you will be accepting the position of Miss Rodeo Oklahoma Princess. You will report directly to the Miss Rodeo America National Director from Oklahoma, who along with the ORPC Board of Directors, will guide and direct your efforts during your reign.

Although you won the Miss Rodeo Oklahoma Princess (MROP) pageant in June of this year, you will not receive the official title until January 1st. Until that time, you will be referred to as Miss Rodeo Oklahoma Princess/Lady in Waiting. It is very important that you remember the current Miss Rodeo Oklahoma Princess has another seven months of her reign. Please be respectful of her title and position.

Prepare a report for the ORPC membership to be presented at the November ORPC, Inc. membership meeting. Your attendance is required at the November meeting held in conjunction with Miss Rodeo Oklahoma's send-off party. You are welcome but not required to attend all other meetings in person.

Begin communicating with the National Director to provide updates of preparations.

Attend the send-off party for the reigning Miss Rodeo Oklahoma in full western attire with Lady-in waiting crown and banner.

The social media coordinator may omit any post or part of a post and messaging made. The social media coordinator has the right to edit grammar, spelling or punctuation. Please keep in mind any content created is not only a direct reflection of yourself, but also the ORPC. Please utilize resources available for formatting and appropriate spelling and grammar usage and avoid slang and jargon. Reach out to the social media coordinator with questions or if you need assistance, she is happy to help. The goal is for the titleholder – not her parents – to provide all content and communication to the social media coordinator/team as part of valuable training for the young woman's personal and professional development.
